

University of Washington Bothell
ACADEMIC DISTINCTION PROJECTS

2007

No new projects were funded in 2007. Two from 2006 were funded for a second year: Krabill, Thomas, and Rosenberg, "Initiative for Community-Based Learning and Scholarship"; and "Piloting the Center for Creativity, Performance, and Research," to be co-directed by Jeanne Heuving and Bill Erdly.

2006 Recipients

Ron Krabill (IAS), Elizabeth Thomas (IAS), Becky Rosenberg (TLC), "Initiative for Community-Based Learning and Scholarship"

JoLynn Edwards (IAS), William Erdly (CSS), Jeanne Heuving, (IAS), Kanta Kochhar-Lindgren (IAS), "Piloting the Center for Creativity, Performance, and Research."

Steven Collins (IAS), Alan Leong (Business/CSS), Michael Stiber (CSS), "Proposal for a Biomedical Technology Institute"

The Academic Distinction Projects are supported through the Richard C. and Lois M. Worthington Teaching Endowment, the Ethyl Jenisch Rose Endowment, and the Richard and Lois Worthington Endowment for Technology.