T. Andrew Wahl (IAS ’96) received tenure at Everett Community College, where he heads the Journalism & Media Communication program. He also teaches the History of the American Comic Book, a new course based on his work as a member of the Humanities Washington Speakers Bureau.

Sean Alley (IAS ’10) and his wife Ellie Waite were married August 13. Sean and Ellie live in Seattle, where he works as a manager at Amazon.

Harry Gaeth (IAS ’11) and his wife Melanie Gaeth welcomed their son, Derek Alexander Gaeth, on August 5. Harry and his wife recently returned to Redmond.

Whitney Skokos (IAS ’11) is now a consultant to several educational institutions in the greater Seattle area. She works with parents, teachers, students, directors and business owners to improve academic programs, curricula, campus culture and administrative systems.

Mark Portacio (IAS ’14) is now an instructional assistant for sixth to eighth grades at Holy Family Kirkland School, working in humanities, religion and math classes.

Eamon Maguire (CSSE ’14) is now Senior Software Engineer at Cisco, responsible for the end-to-end software development life cycle of cloud-based telephony and teleconferencing solutions.

Carolina Cartier (MBA ’14) co-founded the nonprofit Inside Health Institute, which provides affordable holistic care for chronic illnesses.

Jacque Julien (IAS ’15) has a new position with the Edmonds School District: student support advocate at Meadowdale Middle School.

Holly Sawyer (BUS ’16) joined the Clark Nuber PS firm as an audit associate.

Carmel Brewer (M.Ed.’14) and her husband Chris Brewer welcomed daughter Austen Ahriatti Brewer on September 7. Carmel works in the admissions office at UW Bothell.

Lindsey Warnick (IAS ’04) and Jason Warnick were married September 24, in Woodinville. Lindsey, her husband, and her three stepsons live on Mercer Island.

New job, honor or award, or other milestone in your life? Send your big news to us at: uwbalumn@uw.edu.